In major advance, military says they have encircled Khan Younis, Gaza's second largest city

GAZA STRIP

ISRAEL said on Tuesday 24 soldiers were killed in the biggest single-day losses since the start of its ground war in Gaza.

Twenty-four soldiers were killed on Monday, with the army saying 21 of them were reservists slain when rocketpropelled grenade fire hit a tank and two buildings they were trying to blow up.

Israeli reservists were preparing explosives on Monday to demolish two buildings near the built-up Maghazi refugee camp as well as the Israeli border when a militant fired a rocket-propelled grenade at a tank nearby. The blast triggered the explosives, causing both two-story buildings to collapse on the soldiers.

Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu said an investigation was launched into the "disaster" and that Israel "must raelis are divided over whether it's possible to crush Hamas and free scores of captives.

Hours later, the Israeli military announced that ground forces had encircled the southern city of Khan Younis, Gaza's second largest. That marked a major advance, but it was unclear how much closer it would bring Israel to defeating Hamas or freeing Israeli hostages, as ceasefire talks appear to be gathering pace.

The Palestinian Red Crescent said Israeli forces had hit its headquarters in Khan Younis "resulting in injuries among internally displaced individuals who sought safety on our premises."

Netanyahu acknowledged on social media that it was "one of the hardest days" of the war. "We are in the middle of a war that is more than justified...We are making big achievements, like the encircling of Khan Younis, and there are also very heavy losses," he later said.

Defence Minister Yoav Gallant said the "deaths of 24 of our fighters, our best sons... is a heavy blow." Agencies

US, UK hits underground storage locations of Houthis

WASHINGTON

THE US and UK militaries bombed multiple targets in eight locations used by Houthis in Yemen on Monday night.

The US and UK used warshipand submarine-launched Tomahawk missiles and fighter jets to take out Houthi missile storage sites, drones and launchers. The officials said Australia, Bahrain, Canada and the Netherlands contributed to the mission, including with intelligence and surveillance.

In a joint statement, the six allied nations said the strikes specifically targeted a Houthi underground storage site and locations associated with the Houthis' missile and air surveillance capabilities. They added, "Our aim remains to deescalate tensions and restore stability in Red Sea...." UK's Ministry of Defence confirmed that four Royal Air Force Typhoon jets struck "multiple targets at two military sites in the vicinity of Sanaa airfield" with precision-guided bombs. The strikes, said Defence Secretary Grant Shapps, were "aimed at degrading Houthi capabilities" and would "deal another blow to their limited stockpiles and ability to threaten trade."

One senior US military official said strikes dropped between 25 and 30 munitions and hit multiple targets in each location. The official also said fighter jets from the USS Dwight D. Eisenhower aircraft carrier conducted strikes, and other ships involved included the USS Gravely and USS Mason, both naval destroyers, and the USS Philippine Sea, a cruiser. AP

Turkish House debates Sweden's NATO bid

Ankara: Turkey's parliament on Tuesday opened a debate on Sweden's membership of NATO after more than a year of delays that frayed ties with Western allies. Lawmakers were expected to overwhelmingly approve the Nordic nation's bid to become the 32nd member of the alliance after it won the public backing of President Recep Tayyip Erdogan. A ratification vote by the full house was expected later on Tuesday.

meeting of 50 allies

WASHINGTON

FOR the first time since Defence Secretary Lloyd Austin established the international group to support Ukraine in April 2022, the United States is hosting the monthly gathering of about 50 countries out of money, unable to send the ammunition and missiles that Ukraine needs to fend off Russia's invasion.

With no money for

Ukraine, US hosts

While waiting for Congress to pass a budget and potentially approve more money for Ukraine's fight, the US will be looking to allies to keep bridging the gap. "I urge this group to dig deep to provide Ukraine with more lifesaving ground-based air defence systems and interceptors," Austin said in opening remarks broadcast from his home, where he is still recuperating after prostate cancer surgery.

The opening statement by video was the first public appearance from Austin, 70, who appeared slightly gaunt. Austin was hospitalised for two weeks after complications from the surgery.

"Even though we aren't able to provide our security assistance right now, our partners are continuing to do that," deputy Pentagon press secretary Sabrina Singh said.

Additional air defence systems and munitions for them remain a top need of Ukraine, Singh added.

The Pentagon announced its last security assistance for Ukraine on December 27, a $250 million package that included 155 mm rounds, Stinger anti-aircraft missiles and other highdemand items drawn from existing US stockpiles. The US and approximately 30 international partners are also continuing to train Ukrainian forces, and to date, have trained a total of 1,18,000 Ukrainians at locations around the world, said Col. Marty O'Donnell, spokesman for US Army Europe and Africa.

The United States has trained approximately 18,000 of those fighters, including approximately 16,300 soldiers in Germany. About 1,500 additional fighters are currently going through training.

cities—Kyiv, Kharkiv and Pavlohrad on Tuesday, killing at least seven persons and wrecking apartment buildings. The barrage included more than 40 ballistic, cruise, anti-aircraft and guided missiles, officials said. Ukraine's air force said it intercepted 21 of them. In Kharkiv, the onslaught killed six and injured 48, including four minors. Russia used S-300, Kh-32 and hypersonic Iskander missiles. At least 20 people

TREATY DELAY

Rishi Sunak's Rwanda bill suffers a blow in Upper House

LONDON

THE upper house of Britain's Parliament has urged the Conratify a migration treaty with Rwanda. It's a largely symbolic move, but signals more opposition to come for the stalled and contentious plan to send some asylum-seekers on a oneway trip to the African nation.

The House of Lords voted by 214 to 171 on Monday evening to delay the treaty that paves the way for the deportation plan. The treaty and an accompanying bill are the pillars of PM Rishi Sunak's bid to overcome a block on the deportations by the UK Supreme Court.

Members of the Lords, who are appointed rather than elected, backed a motion saying Parliament should not ratify the pact until ministers can show Rwanda is safe.

John Kerr, a former diplomat who sits in the Lords, said the Rwanda plan was "incompatible with our responsibilities" under international human rights law. "The considerations of internationservative government not to allaw and national reputation ... convince me that it wouldn't be right to ratify this treaty at any time," he said.

> The vote has little practical impact, because the House of Lords can't block an international treaty, and the government says it will not delav. However, ignoring the demand could later be used against the government in a legal challenge. The Lords will begin debating the bill next week. Ultimately, the upper house can delay and amend legislation but can't overrule the elected Commons.

The Rwanda policy is key to Sunak's pledge to "stop the boats" bringing unauthorised migrants to the UK across the English Channel from France. Sunak argues that deporting unauthorised asylumseekers will deter people from making risky journeys.
